

测试数据 The dataset contains two test samples provided by OpenAI's ChatGPT, which is an artificial intelligence language model. These samples include a labeled table and an English text paragraph, which can be used to test English-to-Chinese translation software that supports both text and table formats. Text test: The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. This pangram contains every letter of the English alphabet. Pangrams are often used to test fonts, keyboards, and other text-related tools. In addition to English, pangrams exist in many other languages. Some pangrams are more difficult to construct due to the unique features of the language. Table test